

American Airlines Arena

Arena title	American Airlines Arena
Capacity	19,600
About	American Airlines Arena is a sports and entertainment arena located in Downtown Miami, Florida along Biscayne Bay. It was constructed beginning in 1998 as a replacement for the Miami Arena and was designed by the architecture firms Arquitectonica and 360 Architecture. The Arena is home to the Miami Heat of the National Basketball Association. The AmericanAirlines Arena is directly served by the Miami Metrorail at Government Center station via free transfers to Metromover Omni Loop, providing direct service to Freedom Tower and Park West stations. The Arena is also within walking distance from the Historic Overtown/Lyric Theatre Metrorail station. The AmericanAirlines Arena has 2,105 club seats, 80 luxury suites, and 76 private boxes. The Waterfront Theater is Florida's largest theater which is housed within the arena, that can seat between 3,000 and 5,800. The theater can be configured for concerts, family events, musical theatre and other stage shows. American Airlines which has a hub at Miami International Airport maintains the AmericanAirlines Arena Travel Center at the venue. The airline also holds the naming rights for another NBA venue, the American Airlines Center for the Dallas Mavericks, which opened in 2001. AmericanAirlines Center should not be confused with AmericanAirlines Arena.
Logo	 The logo for American Airlines Arena features a stylized graphic of the arena's facade above the text "American Airlines" in a bold, sans-serif font, with "Arena" written in a red, cursive script below it.
Photo	 A wide-angle photograph of the American Airlines Arena, a large, modern, white, curved structure with a prominent glass facade. The arena is surrounded by palm trees and a landscaped area with red flowers. A large Jordan brand logo is visible on the glass facade. The sky is clear and blue.