

Smoothie King Center

Arena title	Smoothie King Center
Capacity	18,000
About	Smoothie King Center (originally New Orleans Arena) is a multi-purpose indoor arena in New Orleans, Louisiana. It is located in the city's Central Business District, adjacent to the Mercedes-Benz Superdome. It has been home to the New Orleans Pelicans (formerly the Hornets) of the NBA since 2002. Starting in February 2004, the New Orleans VooDoo, of the Arena Football League (AFL), played their home games in the arena until the team disbanded in 2008. The VooDoo resumed play at the arena in March 2011, until after the 2015 AFL season when the franchise folded.
Logo	 The logo for Smoothie King Center features a stylized red crown with three points. Below the crown, the words "SMOOTHIE KING" are written in a red, italicized, sans-serif font, and "CENTER" is written in a black, bold, sans-serif font below that.
Photo	 A photograph of the exterior of the New Orleans Arena at dusk. The building has a light blue, metallic-looking facade with the words "NEW ORLEANS ARENA" in large, dark letters. A large glass entrance is visible, and the interior lights are on. A person is standing in the foreground on a brick-paved area, looking towards the arena.