

BMO Harris Bradley Center

Arena title	BMO Harris Bradley Center
Capacity	19,000
About	BMO Harris Bradley Center (originally Bradley Center) is an indoor arena located on the northwest corner of North 4th and West State Streets in downtown Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It is home to the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA, the Marquette University men's basketball team, and the Milwaukee Admirals of the AHL (and formerly of the IHL). It is also the former home of the Milwaukee Wave of the MISL, from 1988 to 2003, the original Milwaukee Mustangs of the AFL from 1994 to 2001, along with the second incarnation of the team from 2009 to 2012 and the Badger Hockey Showdown from 1989 to 2002.
Logo	 The logo for the BMO Harris Bradley Center. It features the word "BMO" in blue serif font on the left, a red circle containing a white stylized "M" in the center, and the word "HARRIS" in blue serif font on the right. Below these, the words "BRADLEY CENTER" are written in a larger blue serif font.
Photo	 A photograph of the exterior of the BMO Harris Bradley Center. The building is a modern structure with a large glass facade and a prominent arched entrance. A blue banner hangs above the entrance that reads "Welcome to the BMO HARRIS BRADLEY CENTER". Below that, a white banner with red and black text says "OCTOBER 13" and "DETROIT". The building is surrounded by trees with autumn foliage and a paved plaza in the foreground.